

THE POCHE DAILY RECORD.

SATURDAY... SEPTEMBER 10, 1876
"THE TRUE THEORY OF GOVERNMENT."

Under the above heading the Carson Tribune, of recent date, opens and closes an article as follows:

"We think no right minded person will deny that the trust and best end and purpose of government is the protection of the weak against the strong—not alone on the physical plane of life, but in all that pertains to the temporal welfare of the governed."

Graduated taxation will increase the aggregate of human happiness; and we believe it is the only basis upon which national prosperity can be made permanent.

The question upon which the Tribune ably comments, is one that has occupied the ablest efforts of political economists and social philosophers. The moral law ignores all government; it is simply an outgrowth of civilized society and has for its primary intent the desire of giving the greatest good for the number. The only necessity existing for government, is the assisting of man to fulfill the law of his being. Constraint, or enforcement form—in the abstract—no portion of governmental function. We are all in an associated state, simply because we prefer it to an isolated one. Man is a gregarious animal. Government is simply upholding the law of equal freedom. It follows, then, that the true theory of government is the correct administration of justice. In the Tribune's argument in favor of graduated taxation, it takes the stand, that "a man who is willing to work has a right to live," and that "equal taxation is a provision of justice and oppression to a majority of the people." The connection of an individual with society may be likened to a faculty mutual agreement; the individual avails himself of State guardianship; he is obliged to assume an equal share of State burdens; the State imposes the burden, and is bound not to withhold State guardianship. The Tribune further says: "The less we have to pay, the more we have to receive." This serves simply as an illustration of the Darwinian theory concerning "the survival of the fittest." In relation to the argument in favor of graduated taxation, it may be stated that national character decides the form of government, and thus gives voice to latent desire or idea of expediency. The power of any government, depends not so much on the ingenuity of its design as upon the strength of its materials. Government is only a human invention and therefore imperfect and will be to the end of time. Even in government itself there exists a great deal of injustice of the most intolerant kind. The state of things that the Tribune is a portion of the original force and no amount of legislation can ever make up for natural defects or existing flaws in the human make-up. It often looks as though God was mismanaging things but human safeguard cannot rectify apparent omniscient error. Our individual entrance on and exit off the stage of life is so swift that we have little time to attempt the remedy of organic defect. We must rest content with this. It is the State's duty to protect, no more. Too much interference and legislation may work apparent good for a season, but in the end will be productive of evil, however well intended. For this reason we think graduated taxation would be a failure.

In one of Longfellow's familiar poems occur the lines:

"Lives of great men all remind us,
We can make our lives sublime;
And, scornful of the hours that slip,
Footprints on the sands of time."

There is more truth than poetry in the above, for—if genius is accepted as an attribute of greatness—some of the greatest men have left memories the reverse of sublime after them. Violence, oppression, rapacity, selfishness, sensuality, and a host of the grosser passions are a portion of the record of many of the world's great.

The Treasury Department issued the following order on the 11th instant:

Until further notice, silver bullion in fine or unpaired bars, foreign coin, small gold, plate, etc., will be purchased at the mints of the United States at Philadelphia, San Francisco, Carson, and the assay office at New York. The purchasing rate will be 101 cents per standard ounce, at Philadelphia, San Francisco and New York, and 100 1/2 cents at Carson, payable in United States gold coin on determination of value by the mint assayer, the seller paying mint charges for melting, refining and parting, conformably to law and regulations.

The latest thing in the way of motors comes from Washington. The inventor is sanguine that with his new machine he can drive a steamship across the Atlantic at an expenditure of $50 for crude petroleum. The name of the new engine is Kelly, which sounds too much like the Philadelphia fraud, Kelsy, to give him much show of belief at present.

Nine hundred and seventy Chinese left California last month; five hundred and thirty-six arrived. The amount of arrivals for the past eight months show a decrease of thirteen hundred from the corresponding period of 1875.

We are in receipt of the first number of "The Sunday Argus," an independent Democratic newspaper published in San Francisco. It presents a fine typographical appearance, and hurrahs for Tilden and B-form.

Between adverse criticism on his new play, and a sweeping condemnation of his new novel, Eastern critics have almost completely demolished Bret Harte.

The "long strike" in the Pennsylvania coal mines has ended with the usual result—the men go back to work at the term proposed by their employers.

Six hundred campaign speeches are weekly inflicted upon the unhappy citizens of Indiana.

An account of a daring robbery on the Utah Central Railroad is in this morning's dispatches.

In California but one voter in thirty is a native.

The Indian treaty laid before the consideration of the Indians at the Red Cloud Agency for their approval, provides for the bettering of their condition by making them self-supporting and will probably result in the transfer of the Indians at that agency to the Indian Territory.

An English Earl was among the notable guests who visited the bonanza mines last week.

SPIRIT OF THE PRESS.

The Western Union Telegraph Company are putting up another line of poles from Reno to Ogden.

George F. Jones, formerly Mayor of Virginia City for two years, was recently killed in the Black Hills by the Indians.

The two furnaces are running steadily in Tybo on ore from the Tybo Consolidated Company's mines.

The Pacific Sulphur Company, near Humboldt Station, is taking out from six to eight tons of sulphur per day, which is being shipped to San Francisco.

Washoe county has an area of 3,550 square miles or 2,272,000 acres, territorially larger than Delaware and nearly twice as large as Rhode Island.

The San Francisco Occident groans under the fact that "some deacons and their wives amuse themselves with playing casino and other such games of cards."

Two bars of bullion were brought to Austin lately, the product of the Holman mine situated in Elworth, Nye county. It is three years since any bullion has been shipped from that locality.

The Menzies News has a telegram of August 15th, giving details of a cloud-burst near Silver City, New Mexico, on that day, which destroyed several thousand dollars' worth of property.

Joe Boggs exhibited to the Idaho World editor the other day three nuggets of gold, weighing altogether ten ounces and three-quarters. Very little quartz was observed in the pieces. They were taken from the mines on Yankee Fork, Lemhi county.

On the afternoon of the 11th, the work of hoisting ore from the bonanza mines through the C and O shaft was suspended. This marks an important era in the history of the famous mines, for the daily ore production will now be greatly increased—the minimum being probably 1,200 tons.

The report of the Humboldt County Superintendent of Public Schools, compiled from the Census Marshal's returns, shows that the number of boys and girls, between six and eighteen years of age, in the county is exactly alike—212 of each sex. This proves that the climate of Nevada is not adapted to Mormonism.

On last Sunday afternoon a shooting affray occurred in Paradise Valley between Cal. Hutson and Spanish Joe. The difficulty arose from a dispute about the manipulation of cards in a quiet game of poker. Two shots were exchanged in which Hutson was shot in the leg above the knee, making an ugly wound, the ball running downwards and lodging under the knee-cap.

R. M. Daggett, Superintendent of the Virginia City Coal Company, reports to the Chronicle that at the depth of about 500 feet the workmen in the shaft cut into a large body of quicksand which flowed into the shaft in such quantities that work had to be stopped. The men employed at the mine feared that a cave might ensue and refused to go down the shaft again.

Knowing that he could find men in Virginia competent to do the work, Mr. Daggett came in at once and in less than an hour had secured a detachment of veteran shaft-sinkers. The company have already expended about $35,000 on the mine, and there are indications of the existence of a good coal deposit a few feet below the point where the quicksand broke in.

The R-N Journal of the 10th says: John Richardson, a miner from Gold Hill, yesterday attempted to commit suicide by shooting himself in the temple with a pistol. He chose for the scene of tragedy the platform back of Earl's depot. It seems he had been gambling the night before, and the gambler had not 100 shares of Imperial stock and such money as he had with him away. He asked them for enough to get a bed with, but in vain. At yesterday morning he wandered around the depot, apparently in great distress of mind. At noon he shot himself in the temple, as stated above, and fell against a closed door. He was seen committing the deed and was taken to the hospital. It is thought his wound is not necessarily fatal, though it is a very serious one.

The Truckee Republican says: Two men residing at Tahoe City, whose names we were unable to ascertain, had a close shave with death Tuesday night. They were appearing in the dam by the old sluiceway, about half a mile this side of the lake, and while intensely interested in their pastime, unconscious to the fact that the dam was drawing toward the falls of the dam. They discovered their perilous situation too late to save themselves, and like a shot they went with the two unwilling captives dived through the outlet down the steepfalls, a distance of twelve feet, into the foaming eddies below. The boat was smashed to pieces, and a reluctant was found with saving. One of the adventurers succeeded in gaining shallow water and waded ashore, the other clung to the side of the wood-work until reached by his companion from above.

A grand colonization scheme is on foot which contemplates the opening and settlement of the country in Eastern Honey Lake Valley, and the timber region beyond. The project is considered feasible. It is claimed that there is a tract in Honey Lake Valley 150 square miles in extent, which, if once cleared of brush, will grow alfalfa when watered. It is believed that a stream can be turned in there and the spot made as productive as the Truckee meadows, being well located for irrigation. Beyond the track country of wealth and prosperity. A railroad 100 miles in length, over easy grades, would connect the place with Reno, on the Central Pacific Railroad.

The Virginia Chronicle tells the following incident on route to the recent miner's picnic: In passing a water tank near Silver City, a little incident occurred which contributed materially to the pleasures of the excursion. The last car contained a crowd of men who persisted in sing the most outlandish airs over invented to torture human ears. An old salt was chanting a nautical air of sixty-eight stanzas and a dozen group of singers were indulging in lugubrious snatches pitched in different keys until the occupants of the next car talked seriously of severing the connection with their disagreeable neighbors by uncoupling. Just then a water tank was reached, such as are used to supply the engines, and as the train passed slowly under it, some bright-minded individual in the car cast to the last sprang up, and catching the chain which opened the valve, gave it a vigorous pull with particularly happy results. The big sprang lowered itself over the last car and belched forth about fifty gallons of water on the singing nuisance, and at first imagined that a Nevada cloud had broken over their heads. The adjoining car sent up a howl of laughter and derision, and the drenched singers changed their melodies of distant climes to strains of Storey county profanity.

The Lyon County Times has the following account of a horrible occurrence. Through reliable sources we gather news of a recently attempted, horrible outrage in Mason Valley. A little daughter of Mr. Herbold, a farmer living in the valley, was one day last week playing alone in the hay-field. The child is about nine years old, and had strayed away from her home in the course of her pastime. Her cries after awhile were heard, and the father flew to the rescue. He found the child lying on the ground, and an Indian a short distance away making off for the hills at the top of his speed. An examination of the child revealed a shocking attempt on the part of the Indian to outrage her person. In order to accomplish this purpose, it seems, he attempted the use of a knife, and in the struggle that ensued inflicted a painful wound in the child's thigh. The neighbors, on hearing of the occurrence, gathered and went in pursuit of the Indian. He was captured without much effort, and would have been summarily hanged had not the father of the injured child for some reason refused to become a party to the hanging. The Indian was consequently let go. This is the first case that we have heard of in which a Nevada Indian has attempted any violence upon the person of a white female. Usually they are the last to perpetrate such crimes. We should hesitate to believe this story but for the fact that it comes to us through a source unquestionable.

Investigation.

During the past twelve months there has been, as it were, a new feature inaugurated in mining enterprises; a salutory want has been supplied. We refer to the wholesale and off-time much needed inquiry into the management of mining companies. This marks an important era in the history of the famous mines, for the daily ore production will now be greatly increased—the minimum being probably 1,200 tons.

The report of the Humboldt County Superintendent of Public Schools, compiled from the Census Marshal's returns, shows that the number of boys and girls, between six and eighteen years of age, in the county is exactly alike—212 of each sex. This proves that the climate of Nevada is not adapted to Mormonism.

On last Sunday afternoon a shooting affray occurred in Paradise Valley between Cal. Hutson and Spanish Joe. The difficulty arose from a dispute about the manipulation of cards in a quiet game of poker. Two shots were exchanged in which Hutson was shot in the leg above the knee, making an ugly wound, the ball running downwards and lodging under the knee-cap.

R. M. Daggett, Superintendent of the Virginia City Coal Company, reports to the Chronicle that at the depth of about 500 feet the workmen in the shaft cut into a large body of quicksand which flowed into the shaft in such quantities that work had to be stopped. The men employed at the mine feared that a cave might ensue and refused to go down the shaft again.

Knowing that he could find men in Virginia competent to do the work, Mr. Daggett came in at once and in less than an hour had secured a detachment of veteran shaft-sinkers. The company have already expended about $35,000 on the mine, and there are indications of the existence of a good coal deposit a few feet below the point where the quicksand broke in.

The R-N Journal of the 10th says: John Richardson, a miner from Gold Hill, yesterday attempted to commit suicide by shooting himself in the temple with a pistol. He chose for the scene of tragedy the platform back of Earl's depot. It seems he had been gambling the night before, and the gambler had not 100 shares of Imperial stock and such money as he had with him away. He asked them for enough to get a bed with, but in vain. At yesterday morning he wandered around the depot, apparently in great distress of mind. At noon he shot himself in the temple, as stated above, and fell against a closed door. He was seen committing the deed and was taken to the hospital. It is thought his wound is not necessarily fatal, though it is a very serious one.

The Truckee Republican says: Two men residing at Tahoe City, whose names we were unable to ascertain, had a close shave with death Tuesday night. They were appearing in the dam by the old sluiceway, about half a mile this side of the lake, and while intensely interested in their pastime, unconscious to the fact that the dam was drawing toward the falls of the dam. They discovered their perilous situation too late to save themselves, and like a shot they went with the two unwilling captives dived through the outlet down the steepfalls, a distance of twelve feet, into the foaming eddies below. The boat was smashed to pieces, and a reluctant was found with saving. One of the adventurers succeeded in gaining shallow water and waded ashore, the other clung to the side of the wood-work until reached by his companion from above.

A grand colonization scheme is on foot which contemplates the opening and settlement of the country in Eastern Honey Lake Valley, and the timber region beyond. The project is considered feasible. It is claimed that there is a tract in Honey Lake Valley 150 square miles in extent, which, if once cleared of brush, will grow alfalfa when watered. It is believed that a stream can be turned in there and the spot made as productive as the Truckee meadows, being well located for irrigation. Beyond the track country of wealth and prosperity. A railroad 100 miles in length, over easy grades, would connect the place with Reno, on the Central Pacific Railroad.

The Virginia Chronicle tells the following incident on route to the recent miner's picnic: In passing a water tank near Silver City, a little incident occurred which contributed materially to the pleasures of the excursion. The last car contained a crowd of men who persisted in sing the most outlandish airs over invented to torture human ears. An old salt was chanting a nautical air of sixty-eight stanzas and a dozen group of singers were indulging in lugubrious snatches pitched in different keys until the occupants of the next car talked seriously of severing the connection with their disagreeable neighbors by uncoupling. Just then a water tank was reached, such as are used to supply the engines, and as the train passed slowly under it, some bright-minded individual in the car cast to the last sprang up, and catching the chain which opened the valve, gave it a vigorous pull with particularly happy results. The big sprang lowered itself over the last car and belched forth about fifty gallons of water on the singing nuisance, and at first imagined that a Nevada cloud had broken over their heads. The adjoining car sent up a howl of laughter and derision, and the drenched singers changed their melodies of distant climes to strains of Storey county profanity.

The Lyon County Times has the following account of a horrible occurrence. Through reliable sources we gather news of a recently attempted, horrible outrage in Mason Valley. A little daughter of Mr. Herbold, a farmer living in the valley, was one day last week playing alone in the hay-field. The child is about nine years old, and had strayed away from her home in the course of her pastime. Her cries after awhile were heard, and the father flew to the rescue. He found the child lying on the ground, and an Indian a short distance away making off for the hills at the top of his speed. An examination of the child revealed a shocking attempt on the part of the Indian to outrage her person. In order to accomplish this purpose, it seems, he attempted the use of a knife, and in the struggle that ensued inflicted a painful wound in the child's thigh. The neighbors, on hearing of the occurrence, gathered and went in pursuit of the Indian. He was captured without much effort, and would have been summarily hanged had not the father of the injured child for some reason refused to become a party to the hanging. The Indian was consequently let go. This is the first case that we have heard of in which a Nevada Indian has attempted any violence upon the person of a white female. Usually they are the last to perpetrate such crimes. We should hesitate to believe this story but for the fact that it comes to us through a source unquestionable.

During the past twelve months there has been, as it were, a new feature inaugurated in mining enterprises; a salutory want has been supplied. We refer to the wholesale and off-time much needed inquiry into the management of mining companies. This marks an important era in the history of the famous mines, for the daily ore production will now be greatly increased—the minimum being probably 1,200 tons.

The report of the Humboldt County Superintendent of Public Schools, compiled from the Census Marshal's returns, shows that the number of boys and girls, between six and eighteen years of age, in the county is exactly alike—212 of each sex. This proves that the climate of Nevada is not adapted to Mormonism.

On last Sunday afternoon a shooting affray occurred in Paradise Valley between Cal. Hutson and Spanish Joe. The difficulty arose from a dispute about the manipulation of cards in a quiet game of poker. Two shots were exchanged in which Hutson was shot in the leg above the knee, making an ugly wound, the ball running downwards and lodging under the knee-cap.

R. M. Daggett, Superintendent of the Virginia City Coal Company, reports to the Chronicle that at the depth of about 500 feet the workmen in the shaft cut into a large body of quicksand which flowed into the shaft in such quantities that work had to be stopped. The men employed at the mine feared that a cave might ensue and refused to go down the shaft again.

Knowing that he could find men in Virginia competent to do the work, Mr. Daggett came in at once and in less than an hour had secured a detachment of veteran shaft-sinkers. The company have already expended about $35,000 on the mine, and there are indications of the existence of a good coal deposit a few feet below the point where the quicksand broke in.

The R-N Journal of the 10th says: John Richardson, a miner from Gold Hill, yesterday attempted to commit suicide by shooting himself in the temple with a pistol. He chose for the scene of tragedy the platform back of Earl's depot. It seems he had been gambling the night before, and the gambler had not 100 shares of Imperial stock and such money as he had with him away. He asked them for enough to get a bed with, but in vain. At yesterday morning he wandered around the depot, apparently in great distress of mind. At noon he shot himself in the temple, as stated above, and fell against a closed door. He was seen committing the deed and was taken to the hospital. It is thought his wound is not necessarily fatal, though it is a very serious one.

The Truckee Republican says: Two men residing at Tahoe City, whose names we were unable to ascertain, had a close shave with death Tuesday night. They were appearing in the dam by the old sluiceway, about half a mile this side of the lake, and while intensely interested in their pastime, unconscious to the fact that the dam was drawing toward the falls of the dam. They discovered their perilous situation too late to save themselves, and like a shot they went with the two unwilling captives dived through the outlet down the steepfalls, a distance of twelve feet, into the foaming eddies below. The boat was smashed to pieces, and a reluctant was found with saving. One of the adventurers succeeded in gaining shallow water and waded ashore, the other clung to the side of the wood-work until reached by his companion from above.

A grand colonization scheme is on foot which contemplates the opening and settlement of the country in Eastern Honey Lake Valley, and the timber region beyond. The project is considered feasible. It is claimed that there is a tract in Honey Lake Valley 150 square miles in extent, which, if once cleared of brush, will grow alfalfa when watered. It is believed that a stream can be turned in there and the spot made as productive as the Truckee meadows, being well located for irrigation. Beyond the track country of wealth and prosperity. A railroad 100 miles in length, over easy grades, would connect the place with Reno, on the Central Pacific Railroad.

The Virginia Chronicle tells the following incident on route to the recent miner's picnic: In passing a water tank near Silver City, a little incident occurred which contributed materially to the pleasures of the excursion. The last car contained a crowd of men who persisted in sing the most outlandish airs over invented to torture human ears. An old salt was chanting a nautical air of sixty-eight stanzas and a dozen group of singers were indulging in lugubrious snatches pitched in different keys until the occupants of the next car talked seriously of severing the connection with their disagreeable neighbors by uncoupling. Just then a water tank was reached, such as are used to supply the engines, and as the train passed slowly under it, some bright-minded individual in the car cast to the last sprang up, and catching the chain which opened the valve, gave it a vigorous pull with particularly happy results. The big sprang lowered itself over the last car and belched forth about fifty gallons of water on the singing nuisance, and at first imagined that a Nevada cloud had broken over their heads. The adjoining car sent up a howl of laughter and derision, and the drenched singers changed their melodies of distant climes to strains of Storey county profanity.

The Lyon County Times has the following account of a horrible occurrence. Through reliable sources we gather news of a recently attempted, horrible outrage in Mason Valley. A little daughter of Mr. Herbold, a farmer living in the valley, was one day last week playing alone in the hay-field. The child is about nine years old, and had strayed away from her home in the course of her pastime. Her cries after awhile were heard, and the father flew to the rescue. He found the child lying on the ground, and an Indian a short distance away making off for the hills at the top of his speed. An examination of the child revealed a shocking attempt on the part of the Indian to outrage her person. In order to accomplish this purpose, it seems, he attempted the use of a knife, and in the struggle that ensued inflicted a painful wound in the child's thigh. The neighbors, on hearing of the occurrence, gathered and went in pursuit of the Indian. He was captured without much effort, and would have been summarily hanged had not the father of the injured child for some reason refused to become a party to the hanging. The Indian was consequently let go. This is the first case that we have heard of in which a Nevada Indian has attempted any violence upon the person of a white female. Usually they are the last to perpetrate such crimes. We should hesitate to believe this story but for the fact that it comes to us through a source unquestionable.

During the past twelve months there has been, as it were, a new feature inaugurated in mining enterprises; a salutory want has been supplied. We refer to the wholesale and off-time much needed inquiry into the management of mining companies. This marks an important era in the history of the famous mines, for the daily ore production will now be greatly increased—the minimum being probably 1,200 tons.

The report of the Humboldt County Superintendent of Public Schools, compiled from the Census Marshal's returns, shows that the number of boys and girls, between six and eighteen years of age, in the county is exactly alike—212 of each sex. This proves that the climate of Nevada is not adapted to Mormonism.

On last Sunday afternoon a shooting affray occurred in Paradise Valley between Cal. Hutson and Spanish Joe. The difficulty arose from a dispute about the manipulation of cards in a quiet game of poker. Two shots were exchanged in which Hutson was shot in the leg above the knee, making an ugly wound, the ball running downwards and lodging under the knee-cap.

R. M. Daggett, Superintendent of the Virginia City Coal Company, reports to the Chronicle that at the depth of about 500 feet the workmen in the shaft cut into a large body of quicksand which flowed into the shaft in such quantities that work had to be stopped. The men employed at the mine feared that a cave might ensue and refused to go down the shaft again.

DEMOCRATIC

County Convention.

THE DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CENTRAL COMMITTEE

Of Lincoln County, Nevada, at a meeting held in Pioche on the evening of August 13th, 1876.

Resolved, That a County Convention of the Democratic Party for Lincoln County, Nevada, for the purpose of nominating candidates for State and County officers, to be held in the town of Pioche, in the Court-house, on Thursday, the 5th day of October, 1876, at 11 o'clock a. m.

Resolved, That the primary elections in the several precincts be held on Wednesday, the 27th day of September, 1876.

The Committee made an appointment of delegates from the following precincts:

Pioche..... 22 Panaca..... 3
Bullionville..... 2 Newark Mill..... 2
Highland..... 2 Rose Valley..... 2
Spring Valley..... 1 Lake Valley..... 2
Hiko..... 4 Grooms..... 1
Virginia..... 1 Clover Valley..... 1

Total number of delegates 43.

The following persons were appointed as Inspectors and Judges of Election on the day of the primary election in Pioche:

Inspector, J. R. Duff.
Judges, J. P. Clark.

The following Inspectors were appointed for the other precincts, with the authority given them to choose Judges:

John Atchison, Panaca.
A. McMahon, Bullionville.
R. Foster, Newark Mill.
James McGrover, Highland.
W. C. Grooms, Rose Valley.
W. B. Maxwell, Spring Valley.
C. G. Heath, Hiko.
James Smith, Grooms.
L. L. Woods, Clover Valley.
A. Prairie, Lake Valley.
John Platt, El Dorado Canyon.

Resolved, That the test at the primaries be: "Will you support Tilden and Hendricks in the coming campaign?"

J. F. CURTIS, Chairman pro tem.
Geo. T. Rivas, Secretary.

WIEDERHOLD & GOODMAN

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

STATIONERY.

SCHOOL BOOKS.

INKS, PENS.

PERIODICALS AND

NEWSPAPERS

OF ALL KINDS.

Imported and Domestic!

CIGARS,

TOBACCOS,

PIPES, CUTLERY, ETC.

AGENTS FOR

Pioche Daily Record,

AND ALL CALIFORNIA AND NEVADA

Dailies delivered by Carrier to any part of Town

MAIN STREET, OPPOSITE HEAD-

OW VALLEY POCHE, NEV.

11-11

C. JAMES KING OF WM. & CO.,

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

HERMETICALLY SEALED

CAN GOODS,

CORNER Broadway and Sansome streets,

SAN FRANCISCO.

Only Gold Medal awarded on this continent for Hermetically Sealed Goods.

67 No Chinamen employed by this firm.

16-11

BREMER & BRO.,

MANUFACTURERS OF

FINE CIGARS,

AND IMPORTERS OF

Leaf and Smoking Tobacco,

210 SACRAMENTO STREET.

Between Front and Battery,

SAN FRANCISCO.

SOLE AGENTS FOR GOLDEN THREAD

FINE CUT CHEWING TOBACCO.

HOTELS & RESTAURANTS.

SAN JOSE

HOTEL,

MAIN STREET.

PIOCHE NEVADA.

THIS HOUSE IS AGAIN IN

Full Blast, and will be conducted by the former proprietor.

SLEEPING ROOMS

Are Neat and Clean.

DINING ROOM

The Pleasantest in Town.

THE TABLE will be supplied with the best in market.

BATHS at all hours of the day, with abundance of hot and cold water.

The charges will be reasonable, to suit the dull times.

A share of patronage is solicited.

Give the SAN JOSE a trial.

D. MILLER, Prop'r.

July 1st, 1876.

BANK EXCHANGE

RESTAURANT.

DICK RIEPE - - - JNO. TITLER.

OPENS ON

MAIN - - - STREET.

Adjoining Russ Scott's Saloon, on Sunday Morning, June, 4th, 1876.

THE TABLE WILL BE SUPPLIED WITH the BEST of the Pioche and San Francisco